Software Developer Intern

Bangalore, India

- During my internship, I utilized React extensively to develop dynamic user interfaces. Leveraging its powerful capabilities, I created reusable UI components, and maintainability.
- In my internship experience, I relied on Postman for API development tasks. This comprehensive tool facilitated the design, testing, and documentation of APIs, streamlining the entire development process.
- During my internship, Bootstrap served as a foundational framework for front-end development. Its extensive collection of pre-designed components and utilities empowered me to create modern and visually appealing user interfaces with ease.
